Flight from Phoenix to New York Flight Changed

~~6:31 AM~~ 9:45 AM · Arrive New York (New York John F. Kennedy International Airport)

Welcome to New York City

Today you will arrive in New York City

Area Overview

New York City has nine million inhabitants and nine million different stories to tell. It's a city that belongs to everyone, both residents of the past, present, and future and visitors who only spend a few days in the "Big Apple" to trudge its bustling boulevards, to marvel at its magnificent museums, and to be awed by the assemblage of soaring skyscrapers.

"The City that Never Sleeps" is more than a city. It's an energy. It's a lifestyle. It's an emotion. And people from all over the world come here to pick that up. Some of them stay for the rest of their lives.

New York City may have some amazing and iconic neighborhoods: from bohemian Greenwich Village and its scruffier neighbor, the East Village, to the more civilized and stately Upper West Side. But the city is more than Manhattan. There are four other boroughs, all with distinct personalities, waiting to be explored. Queens is the most ethnically diverse swath of land in the United States, for example, and Brooklyn has become so hip, it's now a consumer brand, its name plastered all over the planet to denote "coolness."

There's barely just one reason to come to New York, but there are so many singular and superlative attractions in this magnet of a metropolis that travelers jet here just to go shopping; or only to eat, because it's one of the best restaurant cities on the planet. Art lovers are lured here just to go gallery hopping. And others just want to see the latest way the city has reinvented itself.

And then that way, they will have their own story to tell about New York City, becoming one of the nine million-plus unique voices that belong to this very 21st-century city.
