You will start your tour in Sulca Textil, an exhibition center of textiles and South American camelids located at kilometer 23 of the road to Pisac. It is considered a living museum and here you can see Andean camelids, learn about the techniques to take their wool and finally acquire finely spun garments.

You will then visit the Pisac market, consisting of dozens of stalls displaying and selling goods crafted by residents of the area. You can find textiles, carvings, and replicas of ancient Inca pieces. Located 33 kilometers from the city of Cusco, it is a town built as a partridge, also known for hosting one of the most important archaeological sites in the Sacred Valley on the slopes of the hills. It is perhaps the largest complex of platforms in the area. Free time to visit the area on your own. Once you finish the tour, you will be transfer to Sarapampa.

13:00 Arrive at the beautiful Hacienda Sarapampa, where you will enjoy a day full of Peruvian traditions. Upon your arrival, the guide will receive you at the forecourt of the plantation with a welcome drink, followed by a guided tour by the agricultural processes and the corn interpretive center around the property. Then, lunch will be served at gardens of the Plantation House composed of a 3-course meal of the delicious local gourmet gastronomy.

In the afternoon you will be transferred to your hotel located in the Sacred Valley of the Incas.

Dinner at Kusi Bar - at hotel

It has two levels around a welcoming fireplace. Their cocktails, created by Hans Hilburg, are made with pisco and other liquors of international renown. The capacity is 50 people. The bar offers a Peruvian-Japanese fusion, with andean touches typical of the Sacred Valley. Guests can taste exquisite dishes prepared at the moment, from the traditional sushi to the delicious tempura, sashimis, temaki, among others.

Day 4

Tour of Urubamba / Sacred Valley

8:00 AM

Start Time

4:00 PM

End Time

8hr

Duration

An early start for a full day tour to the Sacred Valley of the Incas. Our first stop is at Chinchero to visit the local colourful and authentic market where indigenous people from the surrounding communities congregate to trade their goods, not only trading in money, but in goods as well. The Chinchero Market is also well-known for its woven handcrafts typical of the region. You will also visit a workshop where you can see the artisans of the region working in their place. From here we drive to the Moray ruins, used by the Incas as a type of open-air crop laboratory. Our next stop is Maras pre-Inca salt mines located on a wide-open hill above the Urubamba Valley, from here we will walk down to the Urubamba River and stop to admire the beautiful views of the valley. Please note that it is forbidden that guests walk around the salt flats. You will see them from the viewpoint.

1300 Lunch at Wayra Ranch. Rich soil, ideal weather and millenary wisdom have combined to make the Sacred Valley arguably the most fertile in the world. You will probably become a believer as you indulge in its bounty. Delight yourself with a surprising gastronomic feast led by the prominent Chef, Pedro Miguel Schiaffino. The Peruvian Paso horse, renowned for the smoothest gait in the world. Stunning equestrian demonstrations, to the rhythm of marinera music will render the environment favorable for tasting the quality of their cuisine.

1500 Then, we visit the huge fortress of Ollantaytambo, the archaeological complex believed to have been a gigantic agricultural, administrative, social, religious and military centre. The town itself is geometrically perfect; with straight streets, trapezoidal doors, and Inca drainage systems. Return to the hotel

Dinner at Pukawi - at hotel

The restaurant offers a high standard cuisine. Its menu is a journey between cultures maintaining the essence of the andean tradition combined with the new culinary trends. The prestigious chefs Miguel Hernández, Carlos Mayta and Gonzalo Ruiz de Somocurcio, who incorporate the best products of the hotel garden in a sophisticated and current proposal, created this menu. The capacity is 134 people.

Machu Picchu and Trek Packing

*Luggage: Please pack an overnight bag for this journey. Due to luggage restrictions aboard the trains to/from Machu Picchu, passengers may only take (1) one small handbag weighing no more than 5 kg (11 lbs).

We pick you up early in the morning from your hotel and drive you to the train station to board the train that will take us to km. 104 (the starting point of the hike). After crossing the suspension bridge over the Urubamba River we visit the archaeological site of Chachabamba (2,150m / 7,052ft).

From here, we will hike upwards for about 8km (approximately 4 hours) and get to the magnificent archaeological site of Wiñayhuayna (2,700m), an impressive complex made up of an agricultural center with numerous terraces, a religious sector as well as an urban sector. On the way we will appreciate the vegetation of the forest. After having the box lunch we will continue for about one hour further onto Inti Punku (The Sun gate) at 2,730m (8,972ft), from where you will have your first dramatic and impressive view of Machu Picchu (2,430m / 7,972ft).

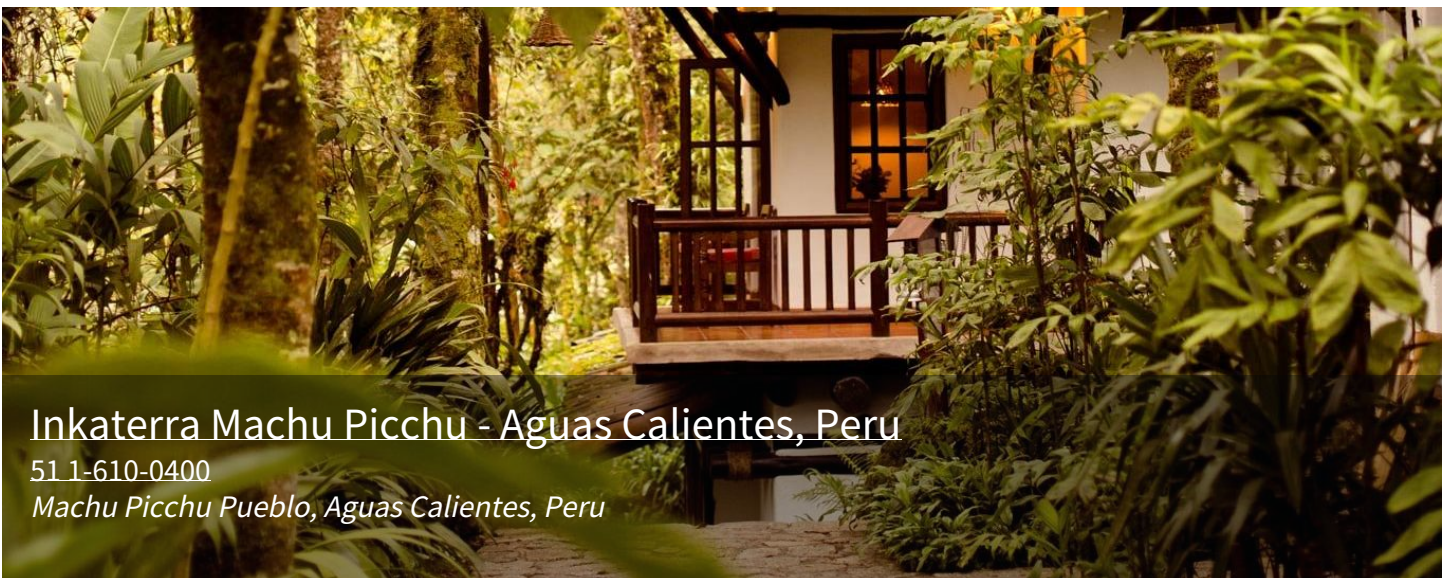

As we are going down, we will take a side path off the trail to take a bus that transports us to Aguas Calientes where you will check into your accommodation.

Level: Moderate

Maximum altitude: Inti Punku 9005 feet | 2745 600 m a.s.l.

Things to Do in Cusco With One Day

1. Plaza de Armas

With just one day in Cusco, one of the best things to do is visit the Plaza de Armas. This top tourist attraction lies in the heart of Cusco. Home to the Cathedral Basilica and the Church La Compañía de Jesús, the Plaza de Armas is a historic symbol of the mighty Incan Empire. Today the Plaza has a wide variety of restaurants offering both international and traditional Peruvian food. There you can find everything from traditional cuy and alpaca steaks, to pizza, all the way to gourmet burgers and everything in between.

2. San Pedro Market

If you are looking for something special or unique as a gift for someone, then consider walking down to San Pedro Market. Although not too far from the Plaza de Armas, the San Pedro Market is a very different experience. The thick aroma of spices and food fills the air and draws you into the market. Although a trip here can take up a whole afternoon, the time spent exploring the market is well worth the visit. You can find everything from food to alpaca blankets, fresh juices, bags of fruit, sandwiches, as well as loads of trinkets to take as a gift or souvenirs back home.

3. Coricancha, Temple of the Sun

A visit to Coricancha, otherwise known as “sun temple”, will offer you one of the most interesting sights in Cusco. Coricancha was once a lavish Incan temple that was lined with silver and gold. Interestingly, as the Inca never had a written language there is no correct spelling. Accepted spellings include Coricancha, Koricancha, and Quaricancha. When the Spanish came, they ravaged the temple of its riches and destroyed it, building a church on top of its ruins. The stark contrast of the Incan temple and the church foundations draw visitors from all and is one of the best things to do and see with one day in Cusco.

4. The Cusco Planetarium

If you are interested in space and like museums, then stopping by Cusco Planetarium is a great thing to do if you only have one day in Cusco. Astrology played a big role in the lives of the ancient Inca. Not only did they devise a calendar to coincide with solstices, but astrology influenced their ceremonies and even their architecture, examples of this can be seen all over Cusco. At the planetarium, you'll learn more about the history between astrology and the Inca. In addition, you'll also have one of the most amazing views of the stars thanks to Cusco's high elevation.

5. Cusco Chocolate Museum

Are you a chocolate lover? Come and live a truly chocolate experience at ChocoMuseo! In our chocolate museum you will uncover all the cocoa secrets while you taste the best artisanal chocolate made with the best organic Peruvian beans! Further more, get ready to make your own chocolate in our Chocolate Workshops or be ready to drink the best of our coffee or chocolate delights in our cafeteria! Please notice we have another 3 locations: - On the same square, opposite corner: the factory, - on plaza de armas on the left of the cathedral, -by the 12 corner stone

6. San Blas

Often called the bohemian or artisan neighborhood, the San Blas district is full of old-world charm. The area is lined with quaint shops and buildings with stunning architecture. The area is only a small walk from the Plaza de Armas, so it's great for spending time in the city if you only have a short time to visit. You'll find small shops and galleries that line the streets. You can also find a number of gifts and souvenirs, and the product quality is slightly higher than those in the Plaza de Armas. Make your way up the hill to San Blas Plaza, where you'll be able to enjoy more delicious food and shopping. A stroll through the neighborhood is definitely one of the best things to do in Cusco with one day.

7. Wild Rover Cusco

If you are looking for a fun night on the town, then look no further than Wild Rover. The popular party spot is located on the hill of Cusco and is known as the place to go for a good time and an incredible view. As one of the best bars in Cusco, the bar is known is to get wild, and a great place to get a buzz going before heading out to one of Cusco's many incredible night clubs.

8. Inca Museum

Museo de Arte Precolombino or, Museum of Pre-Columbian Art, is found in the San Blas District and a great thing to do in Cusco. With one day, you 'll have more than enough time to really explore the many exhibits on display. The extensive collection of artwork encompasses a time period of 1250 BC to 1532 AD. As one of the best collections of its type, it's worth the time to stop and see the stunning exhibits.
