Leisure Day in Paris

Paris, "The City of Light," has been written about, filmed and photographed countless times. Although it seems as if we all know Paris even before we see it, nothing compares to actually being there.

Going to the top of the Eiffel Tower, walking along the Seine at dusk or sipping coffee at an elegant sidewalk cafe are uniquely Parisian experiences—and the wonder of it is that real life takes on an aura of magical make-believe, so that it seems just like being in the movies. Whether you're in Paris for work or for fun, do as the Parisians do and enjoy yourself in this romantic city, which offers something special for everyone.

For the art lover, the Musee d'Orsay and the Louvre offer priceless collections, while the designer shops and chic boutiques of the Rue du Faubourg Saint-Honore, Boulevard Saint-Germain and Avenue Montaigne tempt the serious shopper.

And for anyone who enjoys good food, Paris' restaurants, from inexpensive neighborhood bistros to the most refined and elegant gourmet establishments, will provide delightful meals.

For more information on the beautiful city of Paris, visit the guides tab of your travel app.

Things to Do Near Your Hotel

You are in a great area for restaurants, coffee shops, parks and shopping and also sightseeing!

Visiting Luxembourg Gardens

There are lovely gardens and parks near your hotel. You may want to grab a takeout deli lunch or a snack and coffee and go visit: Luxembourg Gardens - Walking Directions - 10-minute walk from your hotel.

Some of the most popular food markets include: Marché food market is 15 minutes away (walking directions) and Marché Raspail is only a 6 minute walk (walking directions).

Or, you could eat at Madame's Terrace in the heart of the garden. There are also several kiosks selling beverages, confectionery, food and toys in various parts of the Jardin du Luxembourg.

Paris Open Food Markets

Here is a link to an article on Paris Open Food Markets.

Sainte Chapelle and the Cathedral of Notre Dame

You could also decide to meander further northeast to visit the Cathedral of Sainte Chapelle a 25 minute walk from your hotel - directions and the Cathedral of Notre Dame is a 30 minute walk from your hotel (walking directions) and from Cathedral of Sainte Chapelle is only an additional 5 minute walk.

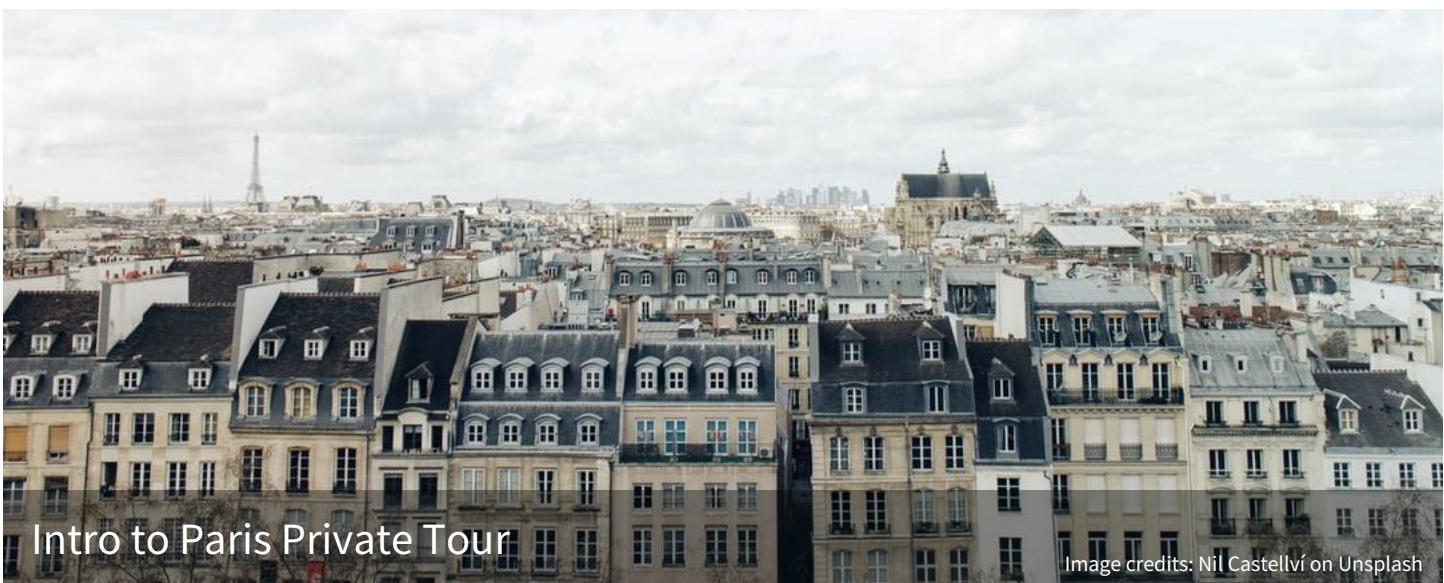

Boulevard St Germain

For some high-end shopping, head north and east by foot to Boulevard St Germain about a 12 minute walk (walking directions). This is a shopping mecca and if you'd like you can further your journey for more shopping and sightseeing in the Latin Quarter. See Paris Perfect Shopping Guide and Shopping in Paris by Goop.

Catacombs of Paris

You might also want to visit the Catacombs of Paris, just a 30 minute walk south of your hotel. While on your way you can shop and eat in Montparnasse. As pre-cursor to visiting the catacombs, you could stop at the Montparnasse Cemetery.

Please see our destination guide of Paris accessible via your travel app for more information on museums, monuments and other things to see and do in this cherished city.

Private Family Seine River Evening Experience with Dinner

Image credits: Mateus Guimarães on Unsplash

5:45 PM	8:45 PM	3hr
Start Time	End Time	Duration

Take a journey on the Seine River like a VIP as you sail with on a private charter. You will be accompanied by a captain and mate, who will provide you a scenic and educational experience of Paris at night.

"Paris is the only city where you can step out of a railway station – and see, the Seine with its bridges and bookstalls, the Louvre, Notre Dame, the Tuileries Gardens, the Place de la Concorde, the beginning of the Champs Elysees—what other city offers as much as you leave a train?"

- Margaret Anderson

Enjoy this time with your family as you appreciate your surroundings and this intimate time with your family. The sense of appreciation will emerge while you dine and sip on champagne. An delicious array of food appealing to the entire family will be served including scrumptious from chocolate fondue to berries and other treats.

You will embark at the Port des Champs Elysées at the Batobus stop located between the Alexandre III bridge and the Concorde bridge (see blue arrow on the map).

From this port, close to Place de la Concorde, you will sail to the Eiffel Tower, the Trocadero and then along île aux Cygnes to the Statue of Liberty, the model for its larger sister in New York.

We will pass again in front of the Eiffel Tower and then under the most beautiful bridges in Paris: Pont Alexandre III, Pont de la Concorde, Pont Neuf, Pont de l'Archevêché...

The adventure aboard your private boat continues past le musée d'Orsay Museum and the Louvre, then south of Ile de la Cité, at Notre Dame, and île Saint Louis before returning downriver along the other bank of the Seine.

The magic of Paris will be before your eyes.

If you are traveling to Paris with teens, this is THE tour for you! With three amazing experiences rolled into one, this perfectly curated day for teens will blow their socks off.

First stop: the Louvre! Our team of superheroes have crafted an exciting treasure hunt in the Louvre for your older kiddos. Finally, the perfect way to get your teens interested in a museum! In this 2.5-hour adventure, your clever Art Expert will explain the rules: 12 challenges to solve to lead them through the museum, from masterpiece to masterpiece. This truly is an interactive and unique way to experience this famous cultural institution.

After you have solved all the enigmas through ancient Egypt and the renaissance, it's time for the next leg of your trip: a sidecar adventure! If you have never ridden in a sidecar before, you are in for a real treat! This one-of-a-kind experience will make you feel like you're a celebrity as you discover hidden gems along the Seine. Your chauffeur will point out famous landmarks on the way you've surely never seen them from this perspective before!

But your trip will not only be informative it will be thrilling! Visiting a city in a sidecar is like nothing you have ever done. Whether it makes you feel like the star of an action blockbuster or the hounds in Artistocats (Napolean and Lafayette these French names can't be a coincidence, right?), it will be a memory you will never forget. When you are in a sidecar, you are lower to the ground, making it feel like you are flying through the streets at ground-level. One of the most fun aspects about this experience is how eye-catching it is. No other time in a city with millions of people will Parisians stop to turn and wave at you. It's hard not to feel like a movie star, and we have no doubt your teens will feel special as they learn about the history of the ancient city.

After you have experienced the city from the ground, it is time to get an aerial view from atop the iconic symbol of France: the Eiffel Tower. After a long day of quests and an exciting ride, it's time to get some height to admire Paris nearly from the sky! If you are looking for some exercise, you can climb the 1,655 steps, otherwise take the elevator to get to the Summit of the architectural beauty. Whether you use the time to spot all the Parisian landmarks, grab some selfies for your teens' instas or just reflect on your family adventures of the day, we promise the view will be both breath-taking and awe-inspiring.

The Olds Royal Family Experience to Versailles

9:30 AM

Start Time

2:00 PM

End Time

4hr 30min

Duration

Let your fantasy begin! This tour has been built as an immersive experience into the life and deeds of the kings and courtiers at the time of the Court. You will unveil the deepest secrets and anecdotes about Versailles Palace and its sumptuous decorations. The Court and royals will come back to life just for you!

You will leave Paris on a pleasant 40-min train ride to Versailles. Once there, your royal privileges will continue with direct VIP access to the Chateau. You are now stepping into the sumptuous residence of Louis XIV.

First, you will enter the King's State apartments. He has three outsized official apartments within the Chateau. One of them was his bedroom, with a view of the courtyard. Another one is the famous Hall of Mirrors, decorated with fantastic crystal chandeliers, giant bay windows, and of course walls covered with mirrors. And the last apartment was the King's office, where he used to gather all his advisors and make crucial decisions about France. You will also discover the Queen's apartments which reopened in April 2019 after 3 years of refurbishment works!

Now it's teatime! Enjoy a tasty break in the cozy atmosphere of a tearoom of which Marie-Antoinette would have approved. Freshen up a little and enjoy some French pastries.

Indulge yourself in a memorable experience with this Versailles Family Tour

Then, you will watch the magical Fountain Show in the Palace's gardens. The Chateau of Versailles gardens are like a maze, a well-designed landscape with its fountains, canals, and sculptures. Its fairytale environment animates itself for the Fountain Show. You will be able to admire the colorful harmony of the place.

You will then be invited back to the Hall of Mirrors for a royal ballet. The Royal Serenade is a 40 minute musical show with dancers dressed in period costumes. This nice interlude will take you back to the King's time where the only preoccupation was your hairstyle for the party. You will feel like a time traveler, back in the 16th century!

By the end of your royal afternoon at Versailles, you will have mastered the Royal "Etiquette" and be familiar with the oddest roles that nobles and courtiers held in this luxurious world. Time to get back to Paris!

Day 8

Free Day in London - Suggestions Provided

Image credits: Benjamin Davies on Unsplash.

Now that you've had a couple of days in London, you probably have a better sense of what you've seen and what you would like to explore further.

In my opinion, photo opportunities around landmarks are fun to do on your own. Hunter and I spent hours finding the perfect "Big Ben" selfie.

I would consider exploring around the Thames River. While I was in London with Hunter, we had fun discovering that Uber by river would take us from the Tower of London to the other side of the river for our photos op of Big Ben (our first session) and also to the Palace of Westminster where we walked to Westminster Abbey. St. James park is also worth exploring. We caught a concert in the park with professional "Broadway equivalent" performers. This begs to ask, maybe you want to use this day to enjoy a musical?

Another way to spend part of your "free day" in London would be touring the Tower of London. It's definitely a highlight and the vendors outside sell the best fish 'n chips we tasted and we ate a lot of fish 'n chips. It became a taste test for Hunter. I would also consider visiting the British Museum. Personally, I find the Eye of London to be overrated, and Hunter agreed after seeing the long line and finding out how many people were put into one "vessel" as he called it.

Enjoy your free day. Be flexible. Try different things. I would venture on the subway. Getting lost can be an excursion on its own. Best way to pay for use of the subway is by credit card, but each traveler will need to use a different credit card as the credit card is used as a unique identifier (weird, I know).

TIPS: I would recommend that you make a plan with your drive as to how much time you want to spend at Windsor. You will likely have extra time and can visit Richmond also on the Thames or another small town before returning to London. If there is anything you didn't get a chance to see or take pictures of in London, you can use this extra time with your drive to see last minute neighborhoods and areas of London. Enjoy your last day of London! I look forward to recapping your trip with you - hopefully it was a memorable one and you'll return to Europe as a family. Other destinations that I would rank high are Portugal, Croatia & Slovenia and Italy with time in Sicily if you have enough time. These destinations offer a nice mix of city time and also relaxation and even beach time. My Best, Angie

Highlights

- Visit Eton College, where 13 British Prime Minister and Princes William and Harry studied
- Settle at a riverside restaurant away from the buzzy bars of the High Street
- See big daddy of constitutions worldwide this location you have to see

Description

Just 60 minutes to escape the tube-rush of Central London into the wow-wonderland of Windsor-on-Thames. The Queen of England has made it her home and yes, it's worth all the fuss. But before that, we stop at Runnymede Field where King John signed the Magna Carta in 1215. The big daddy of constitutions worldwide this location you have to see.

At Windsor, your day is pretty well chalked out. A guided walking tour (which lasts 45-60 minutes), followed by a caffeine fix at an atmospheric English cafe, and jaw-dropping moments at the official residence of Her Majesty the Queen. No, you won't see her in the lavish state apartments, but gape all you can. Some of that elegant luxury may rub-off on you? And after you've dropped those risen eyebrows back into position, allow them to go north again. Because there's still St. George's Chapel, tombs of many English Kings and Queens, and the venue of the celeb-wedding of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle.

Let it all settle at a lunch table at a relaxing riverside restaurant away from the buzzy bars of the High Street? Maybe you prefer a traditional afternoon tearoom with chintzy china in the village? No, you can't have both.

There's free time later to visit Eton College, where 13 British Prime Minister and Princes William and Harry studied. You could pamper yourself with some shop browsing. How about a stroll along the River Thames? Choices, choices.

Useful tip. Save yourself the hassle of long queues by pre-ordering Windsor Castle tickets with us.
