Laugardalslaug Pool

Sundlaugarvegur, 104 Reykjavík

<https://visitreykjavik.is/laugardalslaug>

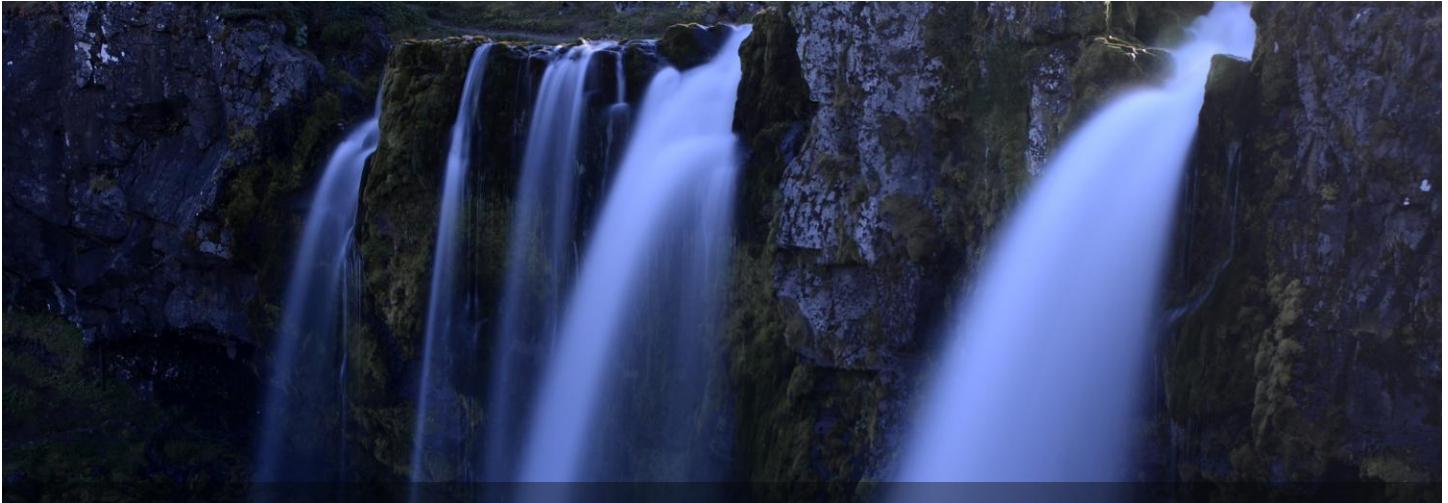

The Queen of Icelandic swimming pools is Laugardalslaug. It is the most popular swimming pool in Reykjavík as its size and location is ideal for those who are in Reykjavík for a short time.

It's just a short walking distance from Reykjavík's centre (or an even shorter bus ride). There are numerous cafés and restaurants in the area.

The Laugardalslaug pool, has two outdoor pools and one indoor, seven hot tubs (one filled with saltwater), sauna, water slides and a beach volleyball court. It's the perfect place to go on a sunny or snowy day.

Open: Mon.-Thu. from 6:30am - 9:00pm | Fridays from 6:30am -10:00pm | Weekends from 08:00am - 8:00pm

Free Leisure Day To Enjoy Iceland's Countryside

Free day to explore the area.

Optional sightseeing along the Snæfellsnes Peninsula: Beautiful region where the natural beauty is all around the Peninsula. There are endless possibilities of sites to stop at such as the Gerðuberg basalt columns, Rauðfeldsgjá canyon, Arnarstapi and Hellnar villages, Djúpalón, Kirkjufell mountain and waterfall and small cozy village nestled by the beach. Over the whole thing you have the magnificent Snæfellsjökull glacier.

A good place to stop for lunch is in Arnarstapi but there are more options along the way such as Hraunið restaurant in Ólafsvík or the different choices of restaurants in Stykkishólmur village.

Optional visit to Secret Lagoon Fludir. <http://secretlagoon.is/>
