Day 3

Florence Self Guided Walking Tour

First-timers will not want to miss the city's highlights Piazza della Signoria: Europe's most beautiful square with the Palazzo Vecchio, the center of the city's political life for over 700 years. The Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore: view the cathedral, adorned by the lovely campanile and crowned with its imposing cupola, an amazing challenge of engineering to be solved only by the genius of Brunelleschi.

Discuss how the difficulties were to be overcome in the most imaginative of ways. Reach the Arno River and view the lovely bridges that span its waters and the charming riverfront houses of the Oltrarno district. The oldest bridge, the Ponte Vecchio, is lined with tiny old-style shops where meat was sold in medieval times and now are jewelry stores

At five minutes walking from the Spanish Steps and Via Condotti, the hotel is located on the famous Via Veneto , renowned as the meeting place of artists, writers and actors during the Dolce Vita period and is now an enchanting pedestrian area, close to the city's main attractions. The magnificent Art Nouveau style building was built between 1892 and 1894. The recent remodeling job which was completed at the beginning of 2009, has left the Art Nouveau style staircase, the stairway skylights, the decorated windows and the ochre marble columns untouched but has created two new areas extending off the main impressive hall.

The hotel was chosen by Queen Margherita of Savoy as her residence while she awaited the completion of her noble residence. The excellent service, hospitality and kindness shown to the Savoy royalty were such that, in 1911, the hotel's owner was granted permission to give the hotel the name Regina and to decorate the emblem with the Royal coat of arms. The Brunello Bar and Restaurant, with its exclusive entrance directly off Via Veneto, transports its guests into a unique atmosphere where traditional Italian elegance blends perfectly with contemporary design.

Similar to a classy atelier, it offers a modern lounge bar and 3 elegant restaurant areas with an unmatchable atmosphere created by the magical play of lights from handcrafted Moroccan lamps and contemporary focal lighting. Earth and sea menus and traditional Italian dishes served as small work of arts, revised and processed by Chef Luciano Sarzi Sartori, surprise the eye and the palate, a pleasure for all the senses. The Wellness Area, a metropolitan oasis in which to rediscover harmony between body and soul with its intimate, exclusive location with also a fully equipped fitness area available to clients. The genuine atmosphere allows to feel the authentic warmth and welcoming Italian hospitality while
