An amorous city break doesn't just require someone to share the sights (and a bed) with, but an alluring hotel that has all the right moves, too... Gravina 51, a converted palacio in Seville's old quarter, is quite the seductress. Its rooms and apartment mix stellar modcons with heritage details, lacing your Sevillano fling with heaps of Andalusian flavour. Unlike some B&Bs, it's not just about the bedrooms, either: retreat to the bar mid-morning for perk-me-up espressos; relax together in the hotel's plant-festooned courtyard or whisk your Smith-in-tow to the roof terrace for sunset apéritifs. Gravina 51's city-centre location smooths the route to romance, putting Seville's much-loved sights within (hand-in-hand) walking distance.

At the end of the tour of the Cathedral and the Giralda, we will have some free time before visiting the Alcázar. Once everyone is ready, we will start our way to the next destination.

You will stroll through its streets following the footsteps of those novelists from the modern side of the city to the old city center in which the New Bridge connects both points. As you make your way through the bridge, marvel at the views of the canyon and river below and gaze at the buildings that conform the old area of Ronda, including palaces, museums, and the bullfighting ring. If you would like to fully appreciate the rich natural scenery, your guide can take you down through the riverside.

Guideline Price Range:

$ = USD $50 and under

$$ = USD $51 to $80

$$$ = USD $81 to $120

$$$$ = USD $121 and upwards

Dining with a View

A number of the better restaurants in Granada enjoy panoramic views either from the Albaicín district towards the Alhambra, or from near the palace overlooking the city and plain.

Estrellas de San Nicolás

Designer Spanish cuisine - $$$

The newest establishment to offer sensational views of the Alhambra is found in a house which until recently belonged to the flamenco singer Estrella Morente. Attractive, light decor and excellent, mainly traditional, Mediterranean cuisine. The roof terrace has even bigger views.

Callejón Atarazana Vieja 1, Granada, Tel: +34 958 288 739

Closed on Tuesdays lunch time

Restaurante Carmen de San Miguel

Designer Spanish cuisine - $$

Looking away over the city the Carmen de San Miguel has a unique location close to the Alhambra and the Alhambra Palace Hotel. The chef/owner Jorge Matas is one of the more adventurous cooks in Granada, often improvising modern versions of traditional dishes. The restaurant has fine terraces and panoramic views over the city.

Plaza Torres Bermejas 3, Granada, Tel: +34 958 226 723

Closed on Sunday evenings

Las Tomasas

Designer Spanish cuisine - $$$

High in the Albayzín district with spectacular views of the Alhambra from its terrace or the picture windows of the dining room, Las Tomasas is billed by many as the rising star among Granada's restaurants. The cooking by Chef Alejandro San Juan is as good as the setting, with a restricted but imaginative menu in which some traditional Granadino specialities are also to be found.

Carril San Agustín 4, Granada, Tel: +34 958 224 108

Closed on Mondays and Tuesday lunch time

Restaurante Carmen De Aben Humeya

Traditional Spanish cuisine with contemporary touch - $$

The restaurant is located a few steps from the Mirador de San Nicolás. All the tables have spectacular views of the Alhambra. Walking through its historic gardens, you can discover beautiful secrets of the Albaicín Granada neighbourhood. The restaurant combines the traditional recipes of Granada with the most modern gastronomy giving their guests honest & quality cuisine.

Cuesta de las Tomasas, 12, Granada, Tel: +34 958 22 83 45

Additional Dining Recommendations

Fine Dining

Ruta del Veleta

Classic Spanish cuisine - $$$

A little way out of the city on the road to the ski slopes of Sierra Nevada (so needs a taxi ride) this is a large, attractive, elegant establishment with several agreeable dining rooms of different sizes. Serving mainly classic cuisine with some local dishes, the Ruta del Veleta has long been the top-rated address in Granada primarily for locals celebrating or enjoying business lunches.

Ctra Sierra Nevada 146, Cenes de la Vega, Granada, Tel: +34 958 486 134

Closed on Sunday evenings

Cunini

Classic Spanish cuisine - $$$

Probably the best-known and specialized in highest-rated fish and seafood restaurant in Granada, Cunini has a pleasant, wood-panelled pastel decor. The choice and presentation of fish is superlative and for which reason it could claim to be the best restaurant Granada. In summer the tables outside are an obvious attraction.

Plaza Pescadería, 14, Granada, (Centro - Sagrario), Tel: +34 958 25 07 77

Closed on Sunday evenings and Mondays

La Fabula

“Auteur” Spanish cuisine - $$$

Located in the Villa Oniria hotel, this elegant restaurant looks out on to a quiet patio garden. The chef Ismael Delgado was awarded a Michelin star at his previous restaurant in Toledo.

Hotel Villa Oniria, Calle San Antón 28, Granada, Tel: +34 958 250 150

Closed on Sundays and Mondays

Damasqueros

Classic Spanish Cuisine - $$$

In a quiet back street of the Realejo Quarter and not far from the lovely square of Campo del Príncipe this restaurant offers a creative and yet traditional weekly tasting menu of fresh ingredients from around Spain, principally Andalucía (e.g. the excellent red tuna), with the option of pairing with wines selected from a good wine list. The small dining room offers no great views but is intimate and relaxing.

Calle Damasqueros, 3, Granada, Tel: +34 958 21 05 50

Closed on Sunday evenings and Mondays

Traditional Dining

Down in the centre of the city, and not far from the Los Patos, Villa Oniria and Santa Paula hotels, there are three addresses that are renowned for their variety and excellence and which, for many Granadinos, have for decades been the reference point for dining well in the traditional manner.

Chikito

Designer Spanish cuisine - $$$

Perhaps the most truly “granadino” of them all, Chikito is always filled with locals from lawyers to students and the photographs on the walls testify to all the famous faces who have eaten here over the years. The dining area is not large and the service exuberant. Famed for its regional specialties.

Plaza del Campillo 9, Granada, Tel: +34 958 223 364

Closed on Wednesdays

Las Tinajas

Traditional Cuisine - $$

Excellent traditional cuisine in a classic setting with a décor featuring the “tinajas” Alibaba wine containers. It has remained unchanged since its opening in the early 1970s, and they pride themselves especially for their gastronomic weeks. A big advantage is that it is open every day.

Martinez Campos 17, Granada, Tel: +34 958 254 393

Closed on Tuesdays

Asador de Castilla

Traditional Cuisine - $$

An “asador” is a restaurant which specializes in roast meats, so no surprise that this is the recommended speciality here. Added to this are dishes such as Artichoke Hearts in Montilla Wine,

Spinach in a sauce of Clams, Prawns and Pine nuts. A downstairs bar serves very good tapas, although the bar is often rather quiet which may of course be a distinct attraction! On closed days Tuesdays or any other day (except Sunday evenings) you could still go to the founding restaurant located just behind the city hall with the same name, though much smaller (calle Escudo del Carmen).

Plaza de los Campos, 8, Granada, Tel: +34 958 22 34 76

Closed on Sunday evenings and Tuesdays

Informal Dining/Tapas

Restaurante Oliver

Casual Seafood - $

Next door to Cunini, Oliver has a different style with brick walls, cast iron columns and a fine marble topped bar in the entrance. The cuisine also has an emphasis on fish with excellent grilled meat as well. Also a spacious terrace in summer:

Plaza Pescadería 12, Granada, Tel: +34 958 262 200

Closed on Sundays

Tendido I

Casual/Fun - $

A really fun place for tapas or a full meal, located underneath the Bull Ring. There are two other similar establishments here so you can ring the changes if you want to. A short cab ride to get there.

Calle Dr. Oloriz, 25, Granada, Tel: +34 958 272 302

And if you just prefer to stroll, the Plaza Bib Rambla, brilliant in day-time with the stalls of the flower market, is a pleasant spot to drop in to any of the numerous cafes and restaurants for a cup of coffee, a glass of beer or wine, or something more substantial. Not gastronomically memorable but fun and uncomplicated and there are some interesting bars and restaurants in the side streets leading off the square.
