Want to make the best of your visit in Paris but have little time and don't know where to start? Relax! We have planned the Best of Paris for you to see not only the touristic places, but also the local ones in your little precious time!

There are so many things to do in Paris that it was necessary to choose your activities to begin with. Your Welcomer, has selected the must-see places so that your half-day in Paris is fulfilling and successful! Let's get right into your busy and exciting afternoon!

Time for a local activity. Public transportation! We want you to see how Parisians move in the city as you are heading to Paris's famous gothic cathedral: Notre-Dame de Paris. Riddle: Its elongated facades shelter the biggest art exhibitions in the world. Did you guess what we are talking about? That's right! It's the Louvre Museum. Your welcomer is going to tell you everything about the history of the museum, and how at the time it was a royal palace! From the Louvre, enjoy a relaxed walk at the Tuileries Gardens. This vast and beautiful park walks you until Place de la Concorde. But no rush!

There is one focal place to visit before getting to the iconic square. It is the famous Palais Garnier, also known as The Opera.

This ballet and opera hall allowed the reorganization of the whole surrounding district: avenues, streets, cafés, shaping a very harmonious set of 19th century architecture. Now back to the iconic square! The Place de la Concorde opens widely in the center of Paris. From its heart, the urban perspectives are amazing with great monuments all around. Your guide is going to show you which hotels, ministries or churches are hidden behind these columned facades. Also, don't forget to look straight ahead of you to see the glorious Champs-Elysées avenue and Arc de Triomphe!

Last but not least, your guide is taking you up to Montmartre to see Paris from the best point of view! You will be driven in a private Tuktuk for a scenic 60 min ride along Paris's most famous streets. The Sacré-Coeur terrace provides an extraordinary panoramic view above Paris. By the end of this tour, you will be able to point out all the places you've been to but also locate in the last four hours and You've really done all of this? Yes, you did!

Le 52 Café Restaurant: No Reservations Accepted

52 rue du Faubourg Saint-Denis, 75010

<http://www.faubourgstdenis.com/>

A hangout for 10th arrondissement locals and other Right Bankers who love the accessibility of the neo-brasserie format that Charles Compagnon helped pioneer. These are diners that are serious not only about food but also a high good-times quotient and the comfort of knowing the servers. A few out-of-towners will find their way in, hoping for a spot on the terrace to people watch

The compact menu with 3-4 choices per course contains plenty that we want to eat: well-roasted duck with coco beans, corn and kale, and an egg yolk ravioli with ham and mushrooms that was satisfyingly reminiscent of one of our favorite dishes at L'Office. Beyond the very good wine list, special attention has been paid to other liquids, starting with their own café Compagnon (roasted by Coutume), including a beer called La Maryse created in collaboration with Dirk Naudrs from De Proef, and finishing with a selection of very special small batch eaux de vie from Christoph Keller at the Stählemühle distillery.

Like at Le Richer, this place is open every day with continuous service from 8am to midnight.

No reservations, but you can wait (or eat, or drink) at the bar.

Practical information: Address: 52 rue du Faubourg Saint-Denis, 75010

Nearest transport: Château d'Eau (4), Strasbourg Saint-Denis (4, 8) Jacques Bonsergent (5)

Hours: Open every day with continuous service from breakfast-midnight

Day 3

Le Louvre

You've probably heard a million times that the Louvre Museum is the biggest in the world. Okay, okay. But is that going to sell it to your children? They are so small and the museum so gigantic! The Louvre can be a fabulous place for children when you hold the key to their curiosity!

That's why we have planned a very creative and fun kids tour for them. They will have to unravel a mystery inside the Louvre! Your Art Historian Welcomer, will guide them through every step in an amusing and informative way! They will be exploring Egyptian mythology, Greek Latin Antiques and, of course, Italian Art, such as the famous Mona Lisa!

Your guide will give your kids an activity booklet, tailor made if they want to participate. They will follow the same course, but with adapted challenges. Actors of their tour, they will see and discuss works of art in a relaxed atmosphere. In every step of their progression for solving the enigma, their observational skills will help them advance! With each answer, they will win a clue written on a card. Once the whole set of cards has been collected, all the clues put together will lead them to solve the enigma!

But this Louvre for kids tour is not only focused on your children! Everyone in your family will see the main masterpieces of the museum and will learn a ton from your guide's knowledge. We guarantee a great recipe for a successful family experience!

Eiffel Tower & Seine River Cruise

Normandy D-Day Landing Beaches Tour from Paris

Activities - Sightseeing at Pointe du Hoc, Normandy American Cemetery and Memorial, and Omaha Beach

Private Escape to Normandy Incl: 14 hours of service guide + chauffeur, tickets for Caen Museum (with audio guide). Not incl: Lunch

Highlights - Learn the important history of Normandy and D Day- Relive the historic events of the battle of Normandy- Feel the weight of history at the American Cemetery in Colleville - Visit Omaha Beach and Juno Beach, site of the famed D Day landings

Description - The D-Day invasion of Normandy by the Allied forces played an essential role in World War II--this tour teaches you the history and lets you reflect on its impact on all our lives, visiting the iconic sites of the Normandy D-Day Landings in the company of a driver-guide. On 6 June 1944, also known as D-Day, the Allies opened up a new front against the troops of Germany's Third Reich. It was the largest military operation in history, which marked the start of the Battle of Normandy and would eventually lead to the end of the Second World War.

More than 150,000 soldiers from America, Britain, Canada, and many other different nations landed by air and sea on a number of beaches along the Normandy coastline (Utah, Omaha, Juno, etc.) as well as at the Pointe du Hoc. Caen Memorial, dedicated to films and illustrations about World War II and the D-Day

Our special French Revolution tour does give you a unique opportunity to relive one of the most important days in French history: The storming of La Bastille. Here is how it works:

At the start of the tour, you'll receive a Historical Character Card. Your card will represent a key player in this historic event – it might be a lawyer, an officer, or a washerwoman! (Don't worry, you won't have to do any acting!) You will get to know the cast of characters who changed History, step into their shoes and relive the French Revolution's blend of hope and terror!

Tuesday 14th of July 1789: Fear hangs over Paris. Despite the warm weather, the city swirled with rumors, revolts, and of course, decapitations. Quite a way to start the week! It is on that specific date that the French Revolution began. That was the day of the famous Storming of La Bastille, when the History of France and Europe turned upside-down.

On the 14th of July in the morning, the common people were greedy to fight. But how would they do, helpless against armed soldiers? Where would they find weapons? The answer was: at the Invalides, a military hospital and home for retired soldiers. Parisians gathered there and found rifles and artillery. This French Revolution Tour starts at this specific location – The Invalides – where the revolt broke out. Now the insurgents are armed, but without powder, the weapons are useless. Someone called out: "There's powder at the Bastille!" We'll never know who said this first, but the crowd listened and proceeded toward the Bastille fortress. As you follow the footsteps of the first revolutionaries through Paris, you'll stop Place de la Concorde to learn about its tragic transformation into a stage for the guillotine as well as the thousands of people that died there. Close to the Louvre, Palais-Royal is your next destination, where intellectual fermentation prepared the popular uprising. Passing the Hotel de Ville (town hall), just like the 1789 Parisians, you will finally reach the Bastille, learning about the huge feudal jail, and its governor who refused to open the doors to help the insurgents. Now that you have been introduced to all of these Heroes of the French Revolution, it is time to get back to the present and have a drink in a typical Parisian café. As you sip on your favorite drink, you will have to guess whether your character stayed alive and kept his head (or didn't) during the Revolution. Unleash the suspense!

Day At Versailles with Musical Fountain Show & Royal Serenade in Hall of Mirrors

Private Versailles Place & Gardens tour. Including: 5 hours of guiding services, train tickets from Paris, skip-the-line & tickets for the palace

On our Palace of Versailles Tour, you will experience more than a simple visit. Travel back in time and learn the delicate rules of the Court, and understand why Ladies and Noblemen would have killed for holding a position close to the King. This is how it works:

At the start of the tour, you'll receive a Historical Character Card. With your card, step into the shoes of the courtiers and servants that were living close to the King. (Don't worry, you won't have to do any acting). Along the tour, your guide will call your card. Just listen to the incredible life of your character!

In the 17th century, many Courtiers visited Versailles to pay tribute to the King, expecting from him favors and promotions. Today, visitors still travel the world to see the Palace of Versailles, the most beautiful castle in France, and learn about Louis XIV, the most famous King in French history.

While proceeding through the Palace of Versailles' official rooms or private dwellings, discover the picturesque duties of those courtiers who chose to turn servants, such as the Official called the King's Ear, whose name's origin will be revealed during the tour. Funny stories about the Queen or the Princes are also part of this Historical tour. They had their own House, comprised of numerous "officers". Among the Noblemen who served the Heir Apparent, the Menin held a major role. The reason of his position might make you laugh! In the splendid Salons, the souvenir of Queen Marie-Antoinette lingers. When she used to cross these public rooms or the amazing Hall of Mirrors, she would never enter without a huge entourage, such as her Dames d'Honneur (ladies-in-waiting). You will be told about the exact duties of these high-ranking female aristocrats. The Versailles Gardens are also part of this Tour. Engineers were working in the shadow to please the King who loved to see his gardens animated by water shows or musical entertainment. From the top of the "Green Carpet", facing the horizon, you will certainly feel yourself as the glorious French Sun King! Important Remark:-

Your entrance ticket includes the access to The Musical Fountains Show & the Royal Serenade in the Hall of Mirrors

Every summer Saturday, after the Musical Fountains Show or before the Night Fountains Shows, discover or rediscover Château de Versailles Grand Apartments with baroque musicians and dancers. The Royal Serenade in the Hall of Mirrors is a forty minute visit of the Grand Apartments at sunset, from the Royal Chapel's Vestibule, to the Hercules's Salon through the Hall of Mirrors, in the company of the Musiciens des Folies Françoises and the Compagnie de Danse l'Eventail. Dressed in magnificent baroque costumes, the artists bring to life scenes from the 17th century court in the golden setting of Versailles: the King's dressing ceremony, the rituals of the Court ball, the meditative mood of religious music.

Le Petit Communes

The restaurant "Le petit Communes" invites you to discover its "bistro" menu, its wine cellar and its apparent stones, from September 1st, 2016. Our team settled in the top of the Marais, a few steps from the Carreau du Temple, the Marché des Enfants Rouges and the Cirque d'Hiver. Surprising, both for its personalized high-end service and for its conviviality and open-mindedness, it turns your dinner into a bistronomic experience with Parisian accents. Aware that a smile calls a smile, we have created a romantic and warm restaurant where the main words are: Generosity, Competence, Excellence and Personality .

We tell our story by bringing the expertise, the clarity and the transparency, resulting from the passion of the job of restorer. A trip to the heart of the French wines of owners harvester, built around an atypical wine list: row by price range (25 € / 35 € / 50 € / 65 €) to avoid a default choice. In each category, the wines are ranged from the lightest to the most powerful, approach to get closer to your tastes.

The cuisine we offer is based exclusively on quality products from our region and selected by producers partners, ensuring Traceability, Authenticity and Integrity to our establishment. Come and discover the short and delicious menu, made of seasonal products, prepared by our Chef, Flavien CARUCCI, past the Bristol, the Prince of Wales and Chef Etchebest's canteen.

Day 8

The Paris restaurant is located near Saint-Germain-des-Prés.

Thus, his name is a nod to Jacques Prévert, a fan of word games and a great walker in the neighborhood, where he lived.

"Philippe Delacourcelle knows how to handle spices like few other French chefs. He also trained with the late Bernard Loiseau, and learned the art of French pastry at Fauchon. Salt cod with cassia bark and smoked potato purée is a classic: what the fish lacks in size it makes up for in rich, cinnamon-like flavour and crunchy texture, and smooth potato cooked in a smoker makes a startling accompaniment. Spices have a way of making desserts seem esoteric rather than decadent, but the roast figs with olives are an exception to the rule". <https://www.timeout.com/paris/en/restaurants/le-pre-verre>

AUX BONS CRUS Dinner

On the map, no pretense but pure bistro literature, the irresistible refrain of the essential dishes of the French cuisine of families, authentic and tasty. All week long, true to the reputation of the famous Routiers, the restaurant Aux Bons Crus offers you the "assurance of a good inexpensive meal".

From formulas to specials of the day, enjoy leeks mimosa or a diced bacon salad topped with a poached egg before hesitating between steak with pepper sauce and quenelles of pike and succumb to the sirens of the floating island. Pleasures simple, not to mention the relaxation of a very affordable wine list, hined on the roads of France.
