Highlights: Marvel at the interlocking hexagonal stones of the Giant's Causeway- Visit the Northern Ireland filming locations from "Game of Thrones"- Take souvenir photos at sites where your favourite "Game of Thrones" characters once stood

Description: Indulge your passion for all things "Game of Thrones" on a magical tour of its filming locations. Depart Dublin and visit the romantic Dark Hedges, go to the spectacular Giant's Causeway and spend some time in quiet villages and scenic coves.

Itinerary

Depart Dublin and discover some of most photogenic locations in Northern Ireland on a "Game of Thrones" locations tour and visit to the UNESCO World Heritage Site of the Giant's Causeway. Go to the small city of Belfast and get around 45 minutes to explore the capital of Northern Ireland. Visit City Hall, or pause for reflection at the Titanic Memorial Gardens, the only memorial in the world to list the names of all those who died on board the ship. Journey down the tunnel-like avenue of intertwined beech trees known as the Dark Hedges, and spend about 10 to 15 minutes at the site where Ayra Stark became friends with Gendry and Hot Pie in "Game of Thrones." Make a 5-minute stop at the ruins of Dunluce Castle, said to be the inspiration for Harrenhal Castle. Continue to the Giant's Causeway to enjoy around 1.5 hours exploring the 40,000 interlocking hexagonal stone columns on the shores of the Atlantic Ocean. Next, go to one of the most sheltered locations on the north coast at Larrybane, where Brienne of Tarth and Ser Loras Tyrell crossed swords in "Game of Thrones." It was also the location for Renly's Camp and where, in the last season, the 2 Greyjoys discussed who should become the new leader of Iron Islands. Get around 10 to 15 minutes to appreciate its peace and beauty. Continue to scenic Ballintoy Harbour, and discover where Theon was baptized in front of Balon and Yara, and where Euron was drowned and crowned to be king. Enjoy around 40 minutes to take in the views and reflect on all the magic and mystery of "Game of Thrones." Go to the site where Melisandre gave birth to the shadow killer in front of Ser Davos Seaworth at Cushendun Caves, a beautiful fishing village also known as the former home of Johann the friendly goat, now immortalized by a sculpture by the artist Deborah Brown. Return towards Dublin and wind your way through the Glens of Antrim on an off-the-beaten-path route that will see you back in the city by around 07:30 to 08:00 PM.

Meeting Location/Transit Details: Pick up at 6:45 am from outside Dublin City Gallery. The Hugh Lane, Parnell Square N, Dublin 1. Drop off around 7:30pm / 8:30pm at O'Connell Street, Dublin 1.
