Day 3

Solemen Mountain Coffee Tour

This tour contributes towards Solemen, a well-known and trusted charity that provides support for the disadvantaged in Bali.

Drive passing the stunning farming community in Munduk where we will discover project supported by Solemen. Together with a local host, take a walk through a coffee garden. The villagers will show us how coffee is produced using natural techniques, and of course, we'll get to try some of this locally grown brew.

As we wind our way up to the highest peak on the island, there's plenty of opportunities to photograph the incredible views including the mystical twin lakes, Buyan and Tamblingan. And we will find some time to relax at a hidden waterfall, rarely visited by tourists.

Day 4

Sunrise Trekking on Batur Volcano

Image credits: Hugo Villegas on Unsplash

Trek up the highest peak of Bali, a sacred mountain and witness a glorious sunrise over a volcanic crater.

Set your alarm clock and in the very early hours of the morning depart from your hotel to the starting point at the base of Mount Batur. The friendly guide will be there to welcome you, provide you with the necessary equipment, and take you through a thorough safety briefing. Then turn on your flashlights and set off in the cool, early morning darkness. The first section takes you uphill through volcanic ash, sand and small rocks. Continue ascending to the top of the crater where the terrain becomes windswept with fewer rocks and vegetation. Relax at the summit with a simple breakfast while witnessing the sunrise and the stunning morning views of Mount Abang and Mount Agung. On clear days it is even possible to view Lombok's Mount Rinjani in the distance across the Lombok Strait. Walk to another crater rim before descending along the same path you climbed in the dark, this time being able to enjoy the spectacular views of the surrounding landscape and Lake Batur. You can even see some of the lava flows and their path of destruction from the most recent eruption. At the bottom take a well-earned dip in a hot spring before returning to your hotel.

Day 5

Art Artists and Villages Tour

Image credits: Nick Fewings on Unsplash

A day to visit the holy springs temple, and meeting genuine Balinese people at their home.

Visit Tirta Empul Temple where the holy springs flowing water to Bali's rivers and fields, supporting life to people and nature. Balinese Hindu worshipers have been drawn to this temple for many years to bathe in its refreshing blessed water, and this tradition still continues today.

Our next visit is with the descendants of artist Mr Ida Bagus Grebuak, whose paintings have been exhibited in the Netherlands. These artistic skills have been passed down through the three surviving generations. Meet the family in their home and have a chat over their activity teaching the kids from the village on painting skill. Drive further, in a simple workshop, exquisite gold and silver designs are being created. The artist is Mr Komang Arya, collaborating with the young people in the village. As well as jewelry, he also creates pieces for Balinese priests along with larger and more intricate artworks of dragons.

At the end, enjoy walking along the rice fields path before reaching the venue for lunch, at a garden with vast rice fields view.
