Canyonlands Self Guided Sunset

Canyonlands National Park preserves 337,598 acres of colorful canyons, mesas, buttes, fins, arches, and spires in the heart of southeast Utah's high desert. Water and gravity have been the prime architects of this land, sculpting layers of rock into the rugged landscape you see today.

Canyonlands preserves the natural beauty and human history throughout its four districts, which are divided by the Green and Colorado rivers. While the districts share a primitive desert atmosphere, each retains its own character and offers different opportunities for exploration and adventure.

Though they appear close on a map, there are no roads that directly link the districts. Traveling between them requires two to six hours by car as there are few places to cross the rivers. Get directions. Most people find it impractical to visit more than one area in a single trip.

Phased reopening - some locations still closed due to COVID-19

We are increasing access to the park in a phased approach. Canyonlands National Park roads, trails, park stores, restrooms, and campgrounds are open. Visitor centers remain closed. Entrance fees are being collected.

Island in the Sky is the most accessible district, offering expansive views from many overlooks along the paved scenic drive, several hikes of varying length and a moderate four-wheel-drive route called the White Rim Road.

The Needles offers more of a backcountry experience, requiring some hiking or four-wheel driving to see the area's attractions.

The Maze is a remote district requiring considerably more time and self-reliance to visit. The Orange Cliffs Unit on the western boundary is co-administered by Glen Canyon National Recreation Area.

Horseshoe Canyon Unit Northwest of The Maze, is a day-use area with stunning American Indian rock art panels.

The Rivers Flatwater trips on the Green or Colorado rivers and whitewater trips in Cataract Canyon are unique ways to experience the park that usually involve two or more days of boating.

Raft one of the most popular and scenic stretches of the Colorado River. Experience several mild-to-moderate rapids such as Onion Creek, Cloudburst, Rocky Rapid, and the famous Whites Rapid. You'll also have plenty of time to relax and swim, plus you'll savor our exclusive hot barbecue lunch at a riverside ranch. When you raft with the Moab Adventure Center, you can choose your level of excitement and involvement - paddle rafts (you paddle) and oarboats (a guide rows) are both available and inflatable kayaks are available upon request at no extra charge!

Nestled along the banks of the Colorado River surrounded by deep-cut Canyonlands and steep cliff walls. We are a classic rugged Western landscape worthy of Hollywood and was in fact the site of numerous films including Rio Grande with John Wayne. Red Cliffs Lodge is home to the Castle Creek Winery with daily wine tasting.

We maintain the Moab to Monument Valley Movie Museum which tells the rich history of movie making in the region and memorabilia from those films. For a truly authentic western experience nothing beats touring our rugged desert from atop a gentle cowboy-trained quarter horse.

Rides are offered daily during the season.

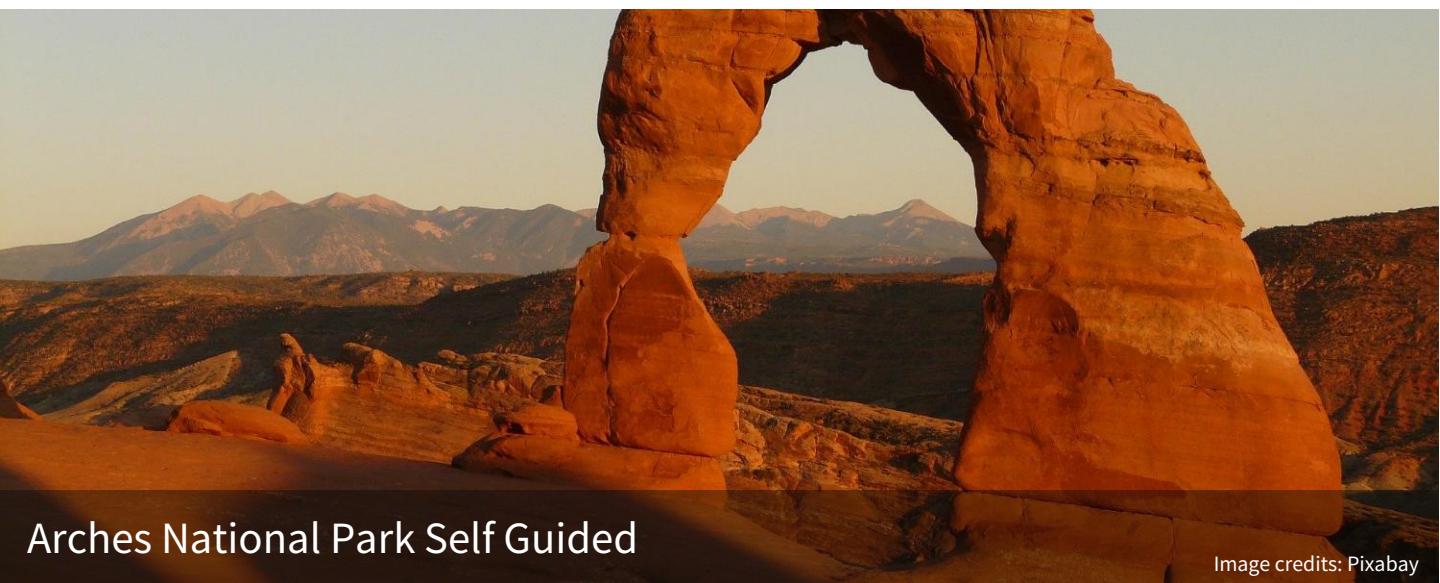

The Cowboy Grill our terraced dining room offers delicious Western flare along with fabulous views of the Colorado River.

Day 5

Arches National Park Self Guided

Located just 5 miles (8 km) north of Moab is Arches National Park, which contains the world's largest concentration of natural sandstone arches. Although over 2,000 arches are located within the park's 76,518 acres, the park also contains an astounding variety of other geological formations. Colossal sandstone fins, massive balanced rocks, soaring pinnacles and spires dwarf visitors as they explore the park's viewpoints and hiking trails.

A paved scenic drive takes visitors to many of the major viewpoints within the park. The park's rock formations delight children as well as adults, with many easy trails providing opportunities for kids to get out of the car and explore the arches up close.

Hikers can choose from a wide variety of trails, from short twenty minute walks leading right up to many of the largest arches in the park, to more adventurous hikes into lesser seen areas. Check out these great hikes for inspiration.

Starting amongst ancient petrified sand dunes we hike our way downhill to a dry sand and rock wash. Quickly the wash disappears over an edge, plunging into the depths of a hidden chasm. "We go down there?" is the usual question after peering over the edge, and indeed we do! This exquisite rappel is the first obstacle in reaching the entrance to the amazing Grotto.

Now, almost totally enclosed in a small stone room, we exit to find our next challenge; an incredible rappel into an alluring green canyon below via an enormous natural stone bridge! Detailed rappelling instruction and a back-up safety system allows even the first-time canyoneer a chance to experience this exciting activity. Insights into the geology, plant life and natural history provide a depth to your adventure. A cool spring-fed stream accompanies us for the rest of this outstanding and informational hike.

Highlights

Short 1 Mile hike through Jurassic aged sandstone
2 world-class rappels (90 ft & 120 ft)
Gorgeous 2 1/4 mile exit hike along a flowing stream
